You are sent to the 'Psycho-Catacombs' Dungeon. Expect to survive a short trip through bizarre and DARK DOORS, KILL POINTS and dangerous elements. The dungeon is reminiscent of the dark forests of 'Mr. Freeze'. In this EXCLUSIVE, extended edition of the DLC, you get to play as the Thespian Mage & the Dog, so you don't have to be a Cleric to be able to play this DLC. You play as the Dog who has the primary function of keeping the Cleric clear of dangers. The Dog can be summoned in by pressing Y when the Cleric is ready to fight. He will defend the Cleric from any dangers. You may also summon the Dog to fight alongside the Cleric. The Mage has the secondary function of healing and crafting. He can be summoned by pressing the B button and the Mage is the only way to learn skills you cannot learn in the main game. The Mage can even activate his Brand of Fire and "burn" the monsters/enemies. Furthermore, each dungeon is unique in how it plays out. The dungeon is randomly generated using a set map included in the DLC. This allows for different scenarios and monsters to be encountered at different times. The DLC contains three different routes to play through the dungeon with a quest given to make it through the route. Your Cleric may be extremely protective and hostile to you depending on your actions in the dungeon. There are a total of 16 Clerics in the game. All of them are totally unique. I work hard at each installment of the game to make the player character feel more and more like 'John Wayne'. About the Game: The Booger Myers Band is a progressive rock-metal band that plays, it's own songs and unashamedly covers ALL KINDS of rock music. Our sound is impressive, fun and challenging! We've already established a cult following for our live shows. Check out these videos: Fully custom programmed, all vocals and instruments are performed by me. I

This is not a CROSS-PLATFORM gaming engine. This is NOT a mirror, or derivative of another game, library, mod or anything of the like. It is entirely an Original Soundtrack/Soundtrack MOD of the game Just a Cleric!Note that Due to the high quality of the music, if you purchase this soundtrack as a package, it will NOT contain the sound for the now optional DARK ASS BAR! If you do not have it, the music will play very clearly, however. If you want the BAR and it's corresponding music, you'll need to download the Soundtrack.Update: After I released the file, I was notified that the DARK ASS BAR wasn't necessary for the music to work correctly. To keep this file as simple as possible, I just left it out.If you do not have the Dark Ass Bar sound, it will NOT work correctly on your computer. Sorry about that! My experience shows that if you purchase this package of music, you'll also get all the extra soundtracks/soundtrack mods for the game (aka Just a Scholar of the First Wuss), except the World Boss Aspirations soundtrack. If you do not own the World Boss Aspirations Soundtrack, you will need to purchase that, in addition to this soundtrack if you want it.This is a HIGH quality, one-of-a-kind mod. All sales are going to the Original Artwork! This file was designed to be played on a portable media player, but I made it for players to be able to listen to it on their desktop computer as well. This file has been tagged and tagged properly for both downloads and to play in most media players. Only the smallest of all of them will take up too much of your computer's CPU.If you use the COMBINED Download, please download it first and then double-click it. When the file is downloaded, use the Files & Folders utility to install it

I am trying to achieve a flowchart similar to this mockup: So each movieclip is displayed on a different stage when the 'Next' button is pressed, and stays in the stage until the 'Previous' button is pressed. I have the 'Next' and 'Previous' button's listener code but the rest is quite new to me. I can't figure out how to have multiple instances of the same movieclip stay on specific frames of the movieclip timeline. The movieclips have names like 'CurrentWork' or 'Planning'. The timeline is actually 11 frames wide, but those 4 columns will be hidden, with only 1 movieclip which is the one that is actually displayed, within its own timeline in the stage. I need the CurrentWork movieclip to be displayed on frame 11 of it's timeline, but when the next button is pressed, it moves to frame 1 of the Planning movieclip's timeline. So no matter what frame it is on in its timeline, no matter if it's visible or hidden, it must be on the same frame when the 'Previous' button is pressed. It is similar to a form where you have 2 columns and you want to be able to show one that is disabled. So one column is displayed but it would be disabled, unless the user clicks the 'Previous' button to enable the other column to be displayed. So how do I move my movieclips to specific frames within the
